

‘A Man with a Dream’

Louie Carrillo

Executive Diamond (1995)

Louie was enjoying life as a top professional Air Traffic Controller at Miami airport when in 1981 the union called a strike that culminated on the loss of many jobs including his. 10 years of training was suddenly reduced to ashes.

There are two ways to handle the agony of defeat, stay down for the count, or learn the lesson and stand up once again.

Louie chose to dream bigger than he ever had before and on seeing the Amway Sales and Marketing Plan realised that this was the business he needed.

Kathy, his wife, said “The first few years building the business were years of personal development and gaining understanding of the opportunity while being motivated and educated by those that came before us”.

Louie concludes, “We can agree that income alone will never bring you happiness. However lack of it can prevent your family from enjoying the things available to you while on earth. We are thankful we have this business in our lives and having this opportunity to learn, grow and achieve. We will forever be grateful to the Amway Corporation for this opportunity.”
